MORTGAGE RATES HAVE DROPPED TO A THREE-MONTH LOW?

The average U.S. fixed rate for a 30-year mortgage recently fell this week to a three-month low.

Sam Khater, Freddie Mac's chief economist, said mortgage rates now are about a quarter of a percentage point above historic all-time lows. The low financing costs are providing a boost to housing demand, he said.

"The very low rate environment has clearly had an impact on the housing market as both new construction and home sales have surged in response to the decline in rates, the rebound in the economy and improving financial market sentiment," Khater said.

It's also a great time to refinance! Pay off credit card debt, student loans and more with cash-out refinances.
